Who can attend this event? Anyone may attend -- veteran or new Catholic homeschooling parents, those discerning homeschooling, those encouraging and supporting Catholic home education. In addition, Catholic parents looking to supplement the education of children enrolled in an organized school, Catholic educators looking for additional curriculum options, and parish priests looking to assist the parents in his parish with educational options, may also find the conference useful. Parents of high school students may also wish to attend the conference in order to speak with the various college representatives that will be in attendance. This conference supports all teaching-styles, learning-styles, and Catholic curriculum options. Parents typically attend this event from throughout KY, as well as the surrounding states.

Child/Student Attendance Policy: Nursing infants are welcome and attend free of charge. Due to the manpower and amount of responsibility involved, childcare is not provided. Most parents find it easier to concentrate on the speakers and vendors knowing that someone familiar is watching their children at home. However, we recognize that it is not always possible to find someone to watch our children. With this in mind, we have decided to add a child activity room for supervised children, under 11. Parents, unable to make other arrangements, may bring their children free of charge. However, the children must stay in the child activity room and must be accompanied by an adult (over 18) at all times. Each family is responsible for the supervision of their own children. Parents may alternate watching their children or they may bring along a grandparent, etc, to assist with watching the children. Paper, crayons, and other activities will be provided. Children 11 and up may attend the Teen Conference. There is a fee for all teens attending the Teen conference.

Do I have to pay full price to come to the curriculum sale on Friday?

Yes. You must register for the conference in order to attend the curriculum sale. We depend upon the registration fees to put on a quality conference and attract national vendors.

Vendors will be open Friday from 4 - 8 p.m. and Saturday from 8 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. Schedule your time so you can acquaint yourself with the many options available to Catholic homeschoolers.

Please note that some vendors do not accept credit cards.
